TASTING NOTES

This wine is only produced in excellent years from the best old vines Tempranillo (90 years+) from eight villages around Haro and selection of only the best vat after these are fermented. Once the best plot has been selected the wine undergoes malolactic fermentation in the cask with batonnage. Once finished the wine is aged for 18 months in new French Allier oak barrels with carefully selected toast before bottling with no fining or filtering. The wine itself is intense ruby red. It has aromas of black fruits and ripe cherries, with notes of white pepper, eucalyptus and mint. The tertiary aromas of wood come through with a hint of dark chocolate, coffee and cigars. This young, balanced wine is long and creamy, with fresh acidity and ripe tannins in the mouth.
